

PPPJ 2011: 9th International Conference on the Principles and Practice of Programming in Java

August 24–26, 2011, Kongens Lyngby, Denmark
<http://pppj2011.imm.dtu.dk>

SCOPE

Java programming is multi-faceted, covering a rich diversity of systems, tools, frameworks and techniques. PPPJ provides a forum for researchers, practitioners and educators to present and discuss novel results on all aspects of Java programming including the language and its virtual machine, methods, tools, frameworks, libraries, case studies, and experience reports. We invite papers on all these aspects. Topics include but are not limited to:

- The Java Language and Systems
- Software Engineering with Java
- Mobile and Embedded Devices, e.g., Java Micro Edition, Android
- Other Static, Dynamic, and Functional Languages for the JVM
- VM Design and Optimization
- Aspect-oriented Programming in Java
- Modular Programming with Java
- Model-driven Development in Java
- Real-Time Systems in Java
- Component- and Service-oriented Architectures
- Java Frameworks and Tools
- Java and Formal Methods
- Security and Information Flow
- Testing, Analysis, and Metrics
- Java Concurrency
- Parallelization of Java Programs
- Applications in Science, Engineering, and Business
- Java Practice and Experience Reports
- Teaching Java

IMPORTANT DATES

- April 15, 2011 Abstract Submission
- April 20, 2011 Paper Submission
- June 24, 2011 Author Notification
- July 8, 2011 Camera Ready Submissions
